California primary elections are on Tuesday. At the polls voters of the Carmel Unified School District will also decide whether or not to annex to Monterey Peninsula Junior College District. The question will appear on the ballot at the foot of the right hand column.

The junior college question will be presented officially to Carmel school district voters for the first time on Tuesday. Two years ago, in a straw vote, the issue was defeated.

The annexation measure is the most vital local issue appearing on the primary ballots which voters will cast on Tuesday. Polls will be open from 7:00 o'clock in the morning to 7:00 o'clock at night.

In addition to party candidates for president, congress and the legislature and Democratic and Republican county central committeemen, Superior Court Judge Stanley Lawson and Supervisor Tom Hudson appear on the ballot, unopposed for their respective offices.

Letters were received this week by all parents of Carmel High School students from the Carmel High P.T.A. recommending a "yes" vote on annexation of the Carmel Unified School District to the MPC College District. Also urging annexation were handouts being distributed by the Carmel Citizens for the College, headed by Dr. Robert Newton.

All Saints' Episcopal Church seems to be finding a resourceful answer to its parking problem.

The Planning Commission on May 25 withheld granting a use permit for additions to the church's present Sunday School until some provision were made for off-street parking.

Last night the Carmel School Board received a letter from All Saints' rector, The Reverend David

Approve Mixed Uses In Farr Building

Carmel Planning Commission yesterday approved plans for a two-story office-apartment building to be built by Fred Farr at the corner of Monte Verde and Seventh streets.

Discussion of the plans, continued from the commission's last meeting, involved whether or not a precedent was being set regarding such mixed uses, and if so, whether this was a good thing or not.

George Willox felt the planners' policy on mixed uses, especially in consideration of the different density requirements involved, needed clarification.

The proposed building conforms to the multiple-dwelling requirement for 1000 square feet of site area to each dwelling unit, but adds three offices within the 8000 square feet provided.

Commissioner Herb Blanks was concerned whether approval of such an arrangement might open the door to other mixed developments which would crowd many more commercial uses into the minimum space required for the living units only.

Commissioner Smith felt such

Despite the fact that much of Old Carmel regards road race week end with diffidence, if not distaste, two Carmel men may provide some of the hottest competition at Laguna Seca this weekend.

Swiss-born John Pierre Kunstle, vice-president of SCRAMP and a top road racer for nearly ten years, and Tom Handley, hard-driving son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Handley, will both pilot Stanguellinis—small, very fast Italian grand prix-type cars in the Formula Junior class. (Kunstle is shown above in a Porsche which he drove in an international Grand Prix race at Sebring, Florida, placing second on Index of Performance.)

The two Carmel drivers, friends and fellow enthusiasts off the course, will be out to beat each other Saturday and Sunday. Both competed at Santa Barbara last week end, Handley placing second in his class and Kunstle leading until forced to retire when another car struck his from the rear.

Other local drivers in the field of more than 100 entered at Laguna Seca: from Carmel, Ray Ramsey, driving a green TR-3 roadster; Ray Wermuth, in a yellow Austin-Healey 100-6; and Rick Hilgers in his reconditioned Morgan Plus-4; and from Carmel Valley, Jerry Lefler in a Porsche roadster, and Katharine (Mrs. Howard C.) Bliss in a Denzel roadster.

"Scotty" Bliss is one of the few women entered in this year's Laguna Seca races, and since there is no "powder puff" event, she will compete right along with the men. However, redheaded Scotty needs no favors; she was among the leaders in her class last year at Laguna Seca until her car spun out.

In Saturday's five races, which begin at 2:15 o'clock, drivers will be qualifying for starting places on Sunday. Five races will also be run Sunday, beginning at 11:20 o'clock, and culminating with the Richfield Dealers Trophy Race for modified cars over 1100 cc., scheduled for 4:00 o'clock. Practice sessions will take place both mornings.

Added attraction will be the Fort Ord Skydivers, in an exhibition of free-fall parachute jumps over the course at approximately 1:00 o'clock Saturday and 12:15 o'clock Sunday.

This week end will mark the tenth year of road racing on the Peninsula, and the Pebble Beach Sports Car Club has programmed several special events in connection with the Laguna Seca races.

Saturday night, starting at 6:30 o'clock at The Outrigger on Cannery Row, the club will stage a short rally, open to all members

Mrs. Velissaratos, with her husband, Victor, flew East to attend the preview of the PFA show on May 18. There are 178 contemporary prints in the show. Mrs. Velissaratos' Lady of Fashion is the only abstraction.

She used no camera to create her abstract. It is a dark room experiment with emulsion on film. Mrs. Velissaratos softened the emulsion that coats photographic film by heat and chemicals until it was in a semi-fluid state, then tipped the film. The emulsion flowed and formed the abstract pattern. Mrs. Velissaratos photographed this abstract design created on four-by-five film, enlarged the photograph and entered the print in the show. The 178 prints on exhibit were chosen by PFA's National Advisory Committee from 800 already locally screened entries, including the work of nationally known contemporary photographers.

Ruth Velissaratos has exhibited her abstracts at the San Francisco Museum of Art and the Santa Barbara Museum of Art also the Monterey County Fair. She is a member of the local Padre Trails Camera Club.

Lady of Fashion is one of the prints reproduced in the PFA's show catalog, also in the Saturday Review's article on the show.

While in New York she and Mr. Velissaratos celebrated their twenty-eighth wedding anniversary with the couple who introduced them, before returning by jet to Carmel.

Senator Kennedy On Holiday Here Chats With Farrs

Incommunicado to callers during virtually all of his three-day vacation at Pebble Beach last week end, Senator John F. Kennedy did make a few calls of his own: one of them to State Senator (and Democratic convention delegate) Fred S. Farr of Carmel.

Invited by the young presidential hopeful for a little chat in his suite at Del Monte Lodge, Senator Farr said he'd be delighted, and could he bring along his daughter Francesca? By all means, said Kennedy.

Francesca, a graduating senior at Santa Catalina School for Girls who will enroll in Stephens College this fall, found little opportunity to put questions to the Massachusetts senator. She was kept busy answering his many queries

Trustees Want Transcript Of Marcus Refusal

Carmel school district trustees last night passed a resolution asking for a transcript of the refusal of Martin Marcus, Sunset School teacher, to answer questions put to him by the sub-committee of the House Un-American Activities Committee on May 12 in San Francisco. Trustees also requested that the sub-committee send them all evidence which caused the sub-committee to ask Mr. Marcus to appear before them.

This action came after almost two hours of public deliberation before a packed board room.

County Counsel William H. Stoffers, present at the request of the school board, stated that under the provisions of the Brown Act it would be illegal for the board to discuss the Marcus matter in executive session.

Trustees then publicly questioned Mr. Stoffers on their position in the Marcus matter. He told them that the California Education Code provides that any school employee who refuses, under oath, to answer questions of a congressional committee is guilty of insubordination, and may be immediately suspended, also dismissed in the manner provided by law.

A majority vote of the board for dismissal would be valid in superior court if substantiated by written charges received or prepared by the board, Mr. Stoffers continued. Also, the employee must be served notice of the suspension and given an opportunity to request a hearing before the board within ten days. If this hearing is not granted a superior court will not sustain the charges. If the employee does not request the hearing, dismissal is effective in 30 days, was the interpretation of the education code laws given the board by Mr. Stoffers.

The court would take into consideration reasons the employee gave for denying to answer questions of a congressional committee, Mr. Stoffers stated, and added it would be well for the school board to afford an employee the opportunity to explain a refusal to testify before a congressional committee.

"Make haste slowly," Mr. Stoffers advised Carmel trustees. "The board must be able to prove the employee refused to answer questions and also that it knows what the questions are. Don't start a law suit before you have evidence."

A certified copy of the transcript of Mr. Marcus' appearance before the sub-committee should be available, he concluded.

Trustee George Yates wanted to know if this transcript would be sent without a request from the board.

There had never been a case similar to the Marcus case in Monterey County, Mr. Stoffers replied, but he thought that if the board requested the transcript they would get it.

Trustee Richard Snyder asked was it proper for the board to take into consideration any refusal to answer the sub-committee's questions. The constitution guaranteed a citizen under the Fifth Amendment the right not to testify.

Mr. Stoffers answered that the state has the right to make rules, regulations or conditions governing

COM. LEAGUE TRYOUTS SET FOR SATURDAY MORNING

The second tryout session for Community League players (13-14 age group) is slated for 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Carmel High School diamond. Carmel will place three teams in the newly-formed league with the Carmel Valley entry taking the fourth spot. President Ralph Thompson has lined up a veteran managerial staff for the Carmel teams with Bob Moffatt and Jack Miller leading one team, Howard Baxter and Bill Woolsey guiding the second, and Bill Rosenkranz and Van King mentoring the third entry.

Carmel Valley's tryout camp will be held at the Carmel High diamond, starting at 1:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

CARMEL BREAKS EVEN IN BABE RUTH LEAGUE PLAY

After opening day ceremonies featuring short speeches by Carmel's Eben Whittlesey, Monterey's Buck Russo, and league skipper Frank Timmins, the 1960 Babe Ruth season got underway at the El Estero Park last Saturday afternoon. The opening game turned into a five-inning rout as the Moose Lodge club swamped the Pacific Grove crew, 13 to 3. Moose Lodge, 1959 champs, packed too much power and pitching strength for the young Pacific Grove aggregation and had things pretty much under control from the opening pitch.

Coach Hadley Hicks' Carmel gang survived a shaky sixth inning to clip Stan Newlin's Baldwin Pianos, 10 to 9, with John Lefler getting credit for the victory. The Carmel nine had a 9-4 bulge going into the sixth frame but a Baldwin uprising pushed across five runs and sent starting pitcher Forrest Cornwall to the showers. Lefler came on in relief and hung on to notch the victory. Carmel picked up the winning run in the bottom of the seventh when the Baldwin pitcher fired a wild pitch to the backstop.

Jose Fernandez, an eighth-grader with Little League experience, turned in the top fielding play of the game when he roamed far into centerfield to haul down a sure extra-base hit. The little outfielder also collected a hit, drove in a run, and scored twice for the Carmel entry.

Sunday afternoon at El Estero, Carmel dropped a 4-1 decision to the strong Monterey Merchant club. Mickey Anastasia, veteran Babe Ruth League hurler, threw a one-hitter at the Carmel lads while his mates were combing Carmel's Johnson for six hits and four runs.

This Saturday's Babe Ruth play will be at the Carmel High diamond with Carmel and Pacific Grove crossing bats at 1:00 o'clock.

WILDER & JONES WINS LITTLE LEAGUE FIRST-HALF

(First-Half Final Standings)

	Won	Lost
Wilder & Jones	6	2
Pilot Market	5	3
Sport Shop	4	4
Boys' Town	4	4
San Carlos Realty	3	5
Turner & McEldowney	2	6

It took Jack Cate's Wilder & Jones squad one inning to wrap up the first-half Little League title last Friday afternoon as the plumbers edged the Sport Shop, 4 to 3, in a playoff of a tie game played on May 27. Darkness had halted the earlier game after seven innings of play with the score deadlocked at 3-3. Hart Silverie received credit for pitching the victory after relieving Kim Roberts and Ed Kawanankoa. Jimmy Zils and Dennis Jones clubbed two-baggers for the winners with Zils' blow driving in two runs. Tim Peterson, Sport Shop catcher, stroked a double for the losers.

Second-half Little League play started Monday night with the Sport Shop edging Boys' Town, 4 to 3, in one of the best games of the current season. At the end of the regulation playing time, the score was tied, 1 to 1, as Clinton Macy and Ronnie Mumford toiled in a neat pitcher's battle. However, in the first extra heat, both teams put on scoring bursts. Boys' Town picked up a pair of runs in the top of the seventh and apparently had the game under control, but Lew McCreery's Sports fought back for three runs to earn the verdict, 4 to 3. Mark Snopkowski and Gerald Pullen were the top hitters for the losers, both getting two blows in three chances. Snopkowski hit a triple and Pullen connected for a double. Pat Woolsey, Gary Kearns and Randy Newman topped the Sport hitters, each getting two safeties.

In Tuesday night's Little League action, Jack Miller's San Carlos Realty gang downed Wilder & Jones' first-half champs, 9 to 6, with Jim Sparolini pitching and batting the realtors to the victory. The little righthander pitched a steady game against the hard-hitting W&J club and helped himself to a home-run, double and single in four trips to the plate. The plumbers enjoyed a 4-2 margin going into the fifth canto when San Carlos exploded for five runs to take over game control. Kim Roberts started for the first-half champs and received relief help from Ed Kawanankoa in the fifth.

Tonight at 6:00 o'clock, Turner & McEldowney tackles Wilder & Jones while Friday night's bill features Boys' Town against the San Carlos Realty.

JIM WOMBLE WINS HALDORN REGATTA

Jim Womble of Carmel sailed away with top honors in the three-day Stuart Haldorn Regatta for Mercury-class boats last week end in Monterey Bay.

Womble and his crewman Pat Coleman accumulated championship points by placing first in three races Saturday and Sunday, then winning the final race of the regatta on Memorial Day.

Another Carmel sailor, Doug Baird, earned second place in the weekend of racing. Other overall standings were George Yates, Pebble Beach, third; George Rhoda, New Monterey, fourth; Dan Garcia, Carmel, fifth; Mark Raggett, Carmel, sixth; Don Wythe, Pebble Beach, seventh; and Harvey Kilpatrick, Carmel, eighth.

Womble's win — he represents the Monterey Peninsula Yacht Club—makes him eligible to enter the National Championship Mercury Regatta at Santa Barbara in July.

VILLAGE INN TAKES OVER FARM TEAM LEAD

(Farm Team Standings)

	Won	Lost
Village Inn	4	0
Little Sparrows	3	1
Carmel Plaza	3	1
Nikko's	2	2
Derek Rayne	2	2
Padres	2	2
American Legion	1	3
Rockets	0	4

In a tense well-played game last Saturday morning, the Village Inn nine tripped previously-unbeaten Little Sparrows, 6 to 4, to take over undisputed first place in the Farm Team Little League race. Paced by Jerry Erk's home run, the winners took the lead in the fourth inning and hung on for the coveted victory. Excellent clutch pitching by Jimmy Baldwin choked off a Little Sparrows rally in the final heat when the losers loaded the bases with only one out. The straight-throwing righthander cut down the last two batters to preserve the win for the Inn crew. Some excellent fielding plays by first-baseman Rudy Lamar turned back several Little Sparrows threats.

Maurice Stoney's Carmel Plaza nine moved to a second-place tie with Little Sparrows by edging the Padres in a 10-9 slugfest. It took the complete mound crew of Bob Ross, Steve Sampson, John Kimbark and Paul Culver to turn back the Padres in the hit-and-run contest.

Derek Rayne evened out its season record at 2-and-2 by beating Nikko's, 8 to 4. A fine three-hit pitching performance by Jack Argieste led the clothiers to victory. Rick Taylor, first-sacker for the winners, was the big noise in the batting department, driving in four runs with a double and two singles.

Paul Artellan's American Legion aggregation notched its first victory of the season by clipping the winless Rockets, 11 to 7, in an abbreviated contest. The Legion gang has improved with each outing and appears capable of giving the leaders a good tussle in the rest of the games.

Next Saturday's Farm Team schedule has Derek Rayne and the Padres in a 9:00 o'clock joust; American Legion and Little Sparrows at 11:00; Nikko's and Carmel Plaza at 1:00; and the Village Inn against the Rockets at 3:00 o'clock.

Art On The Peninsula

Threadbare Square has a number of ironwork vessels and figures for the outdoor retreat by Gene Flores. These are a part of the continuous exhibit in the alcove of the gallery.

On the evening of June 12, the Carmel String Quartet will be heard in a concert featuring Buhler and Mozart in the main room of the gallery. This is the last performance of the season for the group, which has given concerts in Carmel and at Big Sur. The Carmel String Quartet recital is one of the occasional programs of music and poetry reading presented at Threadbare Square.

Main exhibits are concurrently Pots by Kip and Jay Chaffin paintings. Threadbare Square at 585 Oceanview Avenue, Pacific Grove, is now open from 2:00 to 10:00 o'clock daily except Monday.

The sixth annual Spring Art Festival in Modesto, sponsored by the Central California Art League, will be held June 2-5. The public will cast votes for their favorite paintings on opening night. Art-in-Action demonstrations of crafts, pottery and wheel work, weaving, painting and sculpture are planned throughout the daytime hours. In addition to paintings in oils and water colors, sculpture, mosaics, ceramics, jewelry and textiles will be shown. All events are open to the public without charge.

Entries will be judged by Richard Reynolds from College of the Pacific at Stockton and Jess Corsaut and Gene Elmore from Carmel. Cash awards and ribbons will be awarded.

The Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History has on exhibit, through June, original wildflower paintings of Roland Wilson, former supervisor of Point Lobos Reserve State Park.

The pictures were done as an aid to wildflower identification for the benefit of visitors at Point Lobos. In 1954, the paintings were published by the California Division of Beaches and Parks under the title, Point Lobos Wildflowers. The 44 paintings included in the exhibit serve as an excellent introduction to the layman who might be interested in the wildflowers of the Monterey Peninsula area.

The exhibit may be viewed from 10:00 o'clock in the morning to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon, daily except Monday.

The June exhibition of members' work at the Carmel Art Association Galleries will open on Wednesday. All work to be shown must be at the Gallery on Tuesday before 5:00 o'clock. Chairman for this show is E. Cashion Mac Lennan. Her committee includes Richard Lofton (arrangement), Sophie Harpe, Rip Matteson, Maxine Albro, Robert Davey, Joe Feuerborn and Leo Braico.

Non-objective paintings and drawings by Elizabeth Quandt; lithographs and etchings by Dennis B. Beall are being shown at the Drake Gallery, San Carlos at Eighth. Hours are 12:30 to 5:30 o'clock, daily, except Mondays.

Glenn Edward Turner, founder and director of the annual Madonna Festival of the Wilshire Methodist Church, Los Angeles, showed slides of local artists' entries in the 1960 Madonna Festival at the Carmel Art Association Gallery on May 24.

Projected on the screen were Ethelynn Crouch's picture, first prize winner purchased for the permanent collection of the church, Barbara West's blue ribbon winning picture, and the entries of Mary Miller, Beulah Kosty, Lydia Cooling, Isabel Cartwright, Jane Buffington, Leslie Emery, Nick M. Guastella, Linford Donovan, Dorothy Beach, Nell Walker Warner and E. Cashion Mac Lennan.

The 500 entries this year for the thirteenth Madonna Festival came from Paris, the Philippine Islands, India and the United States, Mr. Turner stated. He showed slides and discussed many of these paintings, also related the history and described the growth of the festival.

Maggie McCarthy of Carmel was the painter of the oil landscape which won first place in last Friday's weekly non-juried art show at the Carmel Crafts Center. A watercolor of birds by Muriel McDermet of Monterey took second place.

Edgar Kirsopp

Edgar C. B. Kirsopp of Pebble Beach died Friday night in a local hospital at the age of 67. A retired industrialist, he had made his home here since 1956.

He was born August 20, 1892, at Linlithgow, Scotland, and came to this country in 1919. Shortly thereafter he joined the Rohm and Haas Chemical Co. of Philadelphia, of which he was a member of the board of directors for 32 years. He was also president of the Southern Resin and Chemical Co., a director of the National Drug Co. and the Carter Paper Co., and a trustee of Wilson College at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania.

Before moving to Pebble Beach, he lived in Radnor, Pennsylvania. He was a member and elder of the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Kirsopp of Pebble Beach; two daughters, Mrs. Jane K. McBean of Berwyn, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Dougal K. Jones of Atherton; a son, Edgar P. Kirsopp of Devon, Pennsylvania; two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Gemmell and Miss Marjorie Kirsopp, both of Barnton, Scotland; and a brother, Wilf Kirsopp of MacClenny, Florida.

Memorial services were held Monday afternoon at the Carmel Presbyterian Church by Dr. Joseph M. Ewing. Contributions in memory of Mr. Kirsopp may be made in the form of donations to the Peninsula Community Hospital building fund.

Leo Smith

Leo Smith of Esquiline Road, Carmel Valley, died May 26 in a local hospital after a brief illness. He was 68.

Mr. Smith was born October 13, 1891 in Blanchester, Ohio, and had lived in Carmel Valley for the past ten years. He worked as a gardener and a caretaker.

He was a member of Blanchester Lodge 191, F&AM, and the Order of Knights Templar of Wellington, Ohio.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Stella B. Smith of Carmel Valley; and two daughters, Mrs. Madeline S. Ransom of Bethesda, Maryland, and Mrs. Dorothy S. Jones of Cairo, Georgia. Two sisters, Mrs. Opal Daugherty and Mrs. Zella Hendry, as well as four brothers, Virgil, Stanley, Ralph and Fred Smith, all live in Ohio; another brother, Earl Smith, lives in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He also leaves several grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Mission Mortuary with the Reverend Donald Johnson and Carmel Lodge 680, F&AM, officiating. Contributions in Mr. Smith's memory may be made to the Rose Garden Fund of the Carmel Valley Community Church.

Margery Lanou

Mrs. Margery Lorraine Lanou, a Carmel resident since 1950, died May 26 at her home on Upper Trail Road after a long illness. She was 49.

A native of Baltimore, Maryland, Mrs. Lanou was born January 12, 1911, and first came to California in 1945, making her home in San Francisco.

She is survived by a son, the Reverend Frank S. Lanou, pastor of Canterbury Presbyterian Church in Cornwall, New York; her mother, Mrs. W. W. Chapin of Carmel; and a grandson, Mark A. Lanou of Cornwall.

Memorial services were held May 27 at the Chapin home with Dr. Joseph M. Ewing of the Carmel Presbyterian Church officiating. Memorial gifts in Mrs. Lanou's name may be made to the American Cancer Research Society, Box 1028, Monterey.

John T. Bunn

John Timberlake Bunn, a Carmel resident for 13 years, died May 26 in a local nursing home at the age of 81.

Born January 1, 1879, in Stevenson, Alabama, Mr. Bunn made his home in Colorado and Los Angeles before moving to Carmel in 1945. He was a partner in the Crown Packing Company in Salinas. Until the death of his wife, the late Mrs. Tommie McConnell Bunn, in 1948, he made his home on San Pedro Lane. He was a member of the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

He leaves two sons, Thomas M. Bunn of Pebble Beach and John T. Bunn Jr. of Phoenix, Arizona; a daughter, Mrs. Hampton S. Stewart of Pebble Beach; a sister, Mrs. Flora Hearn of Nashville, Tennessee; and ten grandchildren.

Contributions in Mr. Bunn's memory may be made to the building fund of Peninsula Community Hospital. Funeral services were held May 27 at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with Dr. Joseph M. Ewing of the Carmel Presbyterian Church officiating.

William Malcolm

William Chisholm Malcolm, a retired rancher, died Memorial Day at the Carmel home where he had lived for the past two years. He was 75.

Mr. Malcolm was a native of Ontario, Canada, and was a Canadian veteran of World War I. Before moving here he had lived in Southern California, and was a member of the Upland Lodge, F&AM, and of the American Legion.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor M. Uzonyi of Fresno.

Private funeral services were held Tuesday.

J. B. Costamagna

Jean Baptiste Costamagna, co-manager with his wife of Le Coq d'Or restaurant, died Friday in a local hospital following an extended illness.

A native of Les-Arcs, France, Mr. Costamagna was born February 15, 1906. He and his wife had made their home in Carmel for the past five years at Guadalupe and Pico streets.

In addition to his widow, Gabrielle, he leaves a daughter, Anne Marie Costamagna, who lives in France.

Requiem Mass was celebrated at Carmel Mission Basilica Tuesday morning, with Holy Rosary services Monday evening at Mission Mortuary. Burial took place in the Catholic section of Mission Memorial Park.

Approve Mixed Uses In Farr Building

mixed uses are more attractive, and add to the value of development. Fred Keeble was of the opinion that if a precedent was being established, it was a good one.

The application for building permit was approved over the negative vote of Blanks, who felt the whole matter of mixed uses needed further study.

Plans for the Farr building were submitted by architects Burde, Shaw and Kearns.

Regarding J. O. Handley's proposed Handley Hills subdivision, which was studied at length, the planners decided to write to the county expressing approval of the developer's proposed sidehill street plan, calling for roads of a casual suburban character which would preserve trees and natural growth. The planners also requested that Handley set aside one of the 30 lots in the subdivision—one situated at the entrance to the tract off Carpenter Street—as a park.

Proceedings to consider rezoning of public lands was continued until action can be taken to amend the ordinance requiring the city to mail notices of public hearings on such matters to all property owners within the area involved—in this case, some 5000 residents would have to be sent cards. The city hopes to inform property owners by public notices. The matter will be settled at a meeting on June 22.

The planners voted to arrange a joint meeting with the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association, at the latest possible date, to discuss the proposed Carmel Valley Master Plan.

Public hearing was set for June 15 to extend the interim zoning ordinance which expires June 30.

of visiting sports car clubs. PBSCC will also host a post-rally party at The Outrigger at which queens of the various visiting clubs will compete for a golden crown. Candidate of the local club is "Pixie" (Mrs. Frank) Geesaman of Pacific Grove, a Phi Beta Kappa, a dental nurse, and a member of her husband's pit crew.

PBSCC will also man a Racing Information Center at the Chamber of Commerce in Monterey, open from 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon until midnight, and from 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning until 2:00 o'clock Sunday morning.

The Laguna Seca track, a 1.9 mile European-type course, can be approached either from the Salinas-Monterey Highway or via the Del Rey Oaks Canyon road. There is ample parking at the course, and numerous booths will offer refreshments. Carmel Lions Club is one of the organizations sponsoring a booth.

A word to first-time race spectators: dress adaptably for morning and evening chill and afternoon sun; bring sunglasses and/or sun hats; leave dogs at home; keep children under supervision. Such luxuries as folding chairs, umbrellas, picnic hampers, smorgasbords, etc., are optional.

CARMEL MEZZO SOPRANO IN MPC CONCERT FRIDAY

Karen Steinke of Carmel, mezzo-soprano, will be heard in a song recital tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock in the library lecture hall at Monterey Peninsula College. The public is invited without charge.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone

Formosa Opening Starts 24th Year For First Theatre

The Troupers of the Gold Coast begin their twenty-fourth year of continuous productions in California's First Theatre tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday nights at 8:30 o'clock with Formosa, the Most Beautiful, or, The Railroad to Ruin.

The Troupers' new production—the 110th play to be given in the historic theatre—is a 91-year-old melodrama first performed at London's Drury Lane Theatre in 1869.

Directed by David Eldridge and produced by Charles Thomas, Formosa features Barbara Ziegweid in the title role of a country girl led astray by a pair of connivers (Sam Matar and Bob McIntyre). Florence Venn returns to the Troupers after an absence of two years as Formosa's mother.

Other veteran Troupers in the cast are Clifford Rigsby, Jack Kidwell and Ruth De Roshey. Making their First Theatre debuts in Formosa are Roger Gray, Doug Witt, Nylene Pease, Barbara Samora, William Cano, Jon Graves, and Paul Ransome.

POLICE INVESTIGATING WEEKEND BURGLARIES

Carmel police are still investigating a burglary at Kip's Market and the Village Hardware store on Ocean Avenue last week end. The burglar apparently entered Kip's through a vent in the roof, removed about $700 from three cash registers, then pried out a section of sheetrock wall separating the grocery from the adjoining hardware store, where he took $133 from an unlocked wall safe and $117 from a cash register. The thefts took place Friday night or nearly Saturday morning.

Ross Hoffman

Ross Browne Hoffman, a Carmel resident for 20 years, died yesterday afternoon at his home on Casanova Street after a long illness.

A retired mining engineer, Mr. Hoffman at one time spent 18 years working for British mining interests in Siberia, and was in Russia at the time of the revolution.

He was born November 5, 1873, in Oakland, and graduated from the University of California. In addition to his wife, Irene Farrell Hoffman, he is survived by a cousin in Carmel, Mrs. Hugh Comstock.

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow morning from the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel.

Dewars To Reunion in Denmark

Following a round of farewell parties in their honor, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dewar of Pebble Beach left Sunday on a jet flight over the pole which will take them to a long-anticipated family reunion in Denmark.

In the town outside of Copenhagen which was Mrs. Dewar's birthplace, the couple will meet several dozen relatives most of whom Mrs. Dewar has not seen in over 40 years. After touring Denmark, Sweden and Norway, the Dewars plan to fly to Paris and London, expecting to return to the Peninsula in mid-July.

Pio Junco

Internationally known painter Pio Junco, who exhibited his work at Hidden Village Gallery in Monterey, died on May 21 in Cuba after a year's illness.

Mr. Junco with his wife, Devi, left the Peninsula six months ago to visit Mr. Junco's brother, Peter, who lives just outside Havana. Funeral services and burial took place in Cuba. Mrs. Junco is now back in Carmel.

Following is a tribute to Pio Punco written by David Alberto, Carmel musician and composer.

"The late William Ritschel, having returned from the South Seas, complained of the loss of color evidenced in our surroundings. We, who knew that supreme painter whose understanding of the rhythm of the sea is seldom equalled, realized local color remained unchanged: it was only impressions held in the memory of the artist which caused the comment.

"Now, it is the belief of this writer, that the Peninsula has definitely lost a portion of its color, a belief shared by many, for Pio Junco is no more.

"As Vincent D'Indy was an outstanding composer who grew oranges; as Richard Wagner, of considerable ability as a composer, rented rooms; and as Hans Sachs, a great musician, made shoes; so Pio Junco, a master technician, made coffee. And as Ibsen commented after meeting Strindberg, 'I have met my master',, so it is the belief of many local artists that Pio Junco was a master painter.

"A quiet, unassuming person, a mystic being, moving on within no limitations other than time, will remain while those, able to remember, will carry the joy of having known him."—David Alberto

In addition to his wife in Carmel, Pio Junco is survived by four children, Pio Junco III, a student at City College of Los Angeles, and Wanda, Daria and Andrew Junco of Cambridge, Massachusetts, and his brother in Cuba.

Robert Kent

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for Robert Kent, who died Tuesday night at his home on Junipero between Eleventh and Twelfth streets. He was 73.

A native of Scotland, Mr. Kent moved to Carmel ten years ago following his retirement as manager of the Winnipeg Post Office, Manitoba, Canada, in which he had worked for 30 years.

He was a Canadian Army veteran of World War I, and was several times wounded during his four years of combat service.

His wife, Celia Seymour Kent, died here on June 27, 1958. He is survived by a son, Group Captain John Kent of Hampshire, England.

The Reverend Peter Farmer of All Saints' Episcopal Church will preside at the services, to be held at the Paul Funeral Chapel in Pacific Grove. Burial will be at Cemeterio El Encinal.

Memorial contributions in Mr. Kent's name may be made to the Carmel Foundation.

Plummer Recital Augurs Unusual Musical Future For Talented Violinist

BY EBEN WHITTLESEY

Two artists familiar to the Carmel scene were the attraction to get out the vote at the annual meeting of the Carmel Music Society last Saturday evening. The meeting itself was as thoroughly dull as usual, but the ensuing entertainment was of a high order of excellence.

Stanley Plummer is a young violinist who has played here in recital, while Ralph Linsley, the assisting pianist, is well known to everyone who has even heard of the Bach Festival. A Handel sonata in A Major opened the program, setting the stage with its measured gaiety. The gay and rather martial allegro movement was not given quite the clarity of reading it deserved.

Continuing in the baroque tradition, Mr. Plummer gave us the Bach Partita. This collection of various forms provided a fine opportunity to show different abilities of the artist. The very familiar Chaconne was played with simplicity and eloquence, but might have been handled with more attention to its structural form.

Block's Poeme Mystique set a new mood for the evening after the intermission. Mr. Plummer played it assertively and with imagination. The piano and violin parts seem to be of almost equal interest and importance. Mr. Plummer had fine intonation and seemed especially at home with this introspective music. There were many dramatic and stirring passages. Debussy's "Minstrels" followed, being played with much vigor and interpretative insight. It is one of his less impressionistic efforts.

Passing to the contemporary scene, Mr. Plummer gave us two Shostakovich preludes, light, sparkling and satirical. They were played with imagination and zest. By way of a stirring and satisfying conclusion the artists played Saint Saens' brilliant Havanaise. Mr. Plummer's execution was of a high order, and he managed to convey a stimulating feeling of excitement, despite the somewhat excessive ornamentation.

Encores rewarding the enthusiastic applause included Tambourin Chinois by Kreisler and Piece 13 by Paganini. Chief impressions of the evening were the fine tonal quality of Mr. Plummer's playing, the superb support given him by his able accompanist, and the feeling that this young violinist may well emerge as one of the fine talents of his generation if his execution keeps pace with his insight and quality of interpretation.

Wilderness Of The West

A Monthly Column
by C. Edward Graves

CALIFORNIA'S HIGHWAY ONE

My wife and I have just returned from a week's trip up the Coast Highway (known to the State Highway Department as State Sign Route 1). We drove as far as the Kruse Rhododendron Reserve State Park about 100 miles north of San Francisco. Most of the time was spent in making a color slide record of the Point Reyes Peninsula for the purpose of helping the National Park Service and the Sierra Club in their project to establish a National Seashore there.

Some thoughts and observations from the trip might not be out of place in a Wilderness Conservation column, though of course there is practically no real wilderness left along the coast at the present time. It takes imagination to reconstruct what was originally one of the wildest coast lines in America.

Just before leaving I attended a meeting at the County Supervisors' chambers to hear a report of the representatives of the National Park Service on the advisability of building a National Parkway along the coast between Carmel and San Simeon. I was pleased to hear the opinion expressed that there is no need for such a parkway. My feeling has always been that we should keep the Coast Highway as nearly in its present condition as possible, leaving no stone unturned to encourage through travel to go down Highway 101. A National Parkway would increase travel so enormously that the pressure for expansion would be hard to resist.

The Coast Highway north of San Francisco is still for the most part unspoiled by excessive widening. For the first 30 miles or so it winds among the hills above the ocean in a leisurely way. With the green hills sprinkled with poppies and lupine it offers a delightfully refreshing drive. Traffic was light, no doubt partly because of the slow driving. Widening the road and taking out curves not only induces fast and heavy traffic but destroys appreciation of roadside beauty.

The Point Reyes Peninsula on the west side of long narrow Tomales Bay is off from the direct route of the Coast Highway and so is relatively unspoiled. In an earlier column I described the threat to the beauty of the Peninsula in the lumbering operations that are destroying the virgin Douglas fir forests and in the subdivisions that are now being started on the shore line. Efforts to establish a National Seashore there as a unit of the National Park System and thus to protect to a certain extent the primitive scenery are progressing satisfactorily.

Farther north on the Coast Highway there has been some straightening and widening in southern Sonoma County but for the most part the primeval charm is still there. The historical buildings at Fort Ross carry one back quickly in imagination to the days of the Russian ownership over 100 years ago, when protection from Indians was necessary.

The Kruse Rhodendron Reserve State Park, ten miles north of Fort Ross, was in its prime. Tall rhododendron "trees" scattered among the redwoods and Douglas firs and madrones were in blossom. An osprey nest high up on a redwood stub with the fledglings being fed by the parent birds was especially interesting. This was the best wilderness that we saw on our trip. It is to be hoped that this section of the Coast Highway, along with the Carmel-San Simeon section, can be included in Senator Fred Farr's proposed Scenic Highway classification, which will give it at least a measure of protection from the pressures of modern highway building.

BACH PROGRAMS AT NEPENTHE

The San Francisco Chamber players will give two programs of Bach's music at Nepenthe, Big Sur, during June. Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and again in the evening at 8:30, the group will play Brandenburg concertos. On June 12 at the same hours Bach's Musical Offering will be performed.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

PYGMALION HELD OVER AT CIRCLE THEATRE

Pygmalion, the current Circle Theatre hit, has been extended through Sunday. The Bernard Shaw comedy, which features Rosamond Zammit as Eliza Doolittle, was originally scheduled to close last week end.

The closing of Pygmalion also marks the end of the Golden Bough's second subscription season, which began in September. Season tickets will not be valid after Sunday evening's performance.

The extension has forced a postponement of the Circle's next play, The Skin of Our Teeth. This Thornton Wilder classic will now open on June 10 for a five-week run.

THIS RHYTHMIC WORLD

Sea gulls glide through infinities of air . . .
conforming to rhythms of earth and time in fluid movements older than man.
Grasses bow and trees bend humbly obedient to arrogant winds.
Clouds pass over mountains, over desert and sea,
bird wings curve under illimitable skies,
weaving rhythmic patterns of grace.
Only man, discordant in his arrogance, destroys the patterned harmony.

The short, sharp bark
Of young seals at play
In the channel kelp-bed

With halcyon touch conceal the stars.

MEDICINE SHELF

These colors, lavender, the blues,
Powders and fluids in these vials
May stem from ancient witches' brews.
They stand in rows in dim lit halls;
Once they were culled from hidden glade,
Opium from poppy, senna leaf,
And there the blue, the deadly nightshade.
What ancient flame of pure belief
Brought these to birth, what hidden core
Of minds bridged centuries towards light?
Time brings the wonder with the lore
From scholar or from acolyte
In necromancy, changed to vast
Cool wisdom, now these halls of white
Bring healing essence from the past.

mislaid, as were polished purple shells in the wild hours
hustling us into a new world.
They lie—in mind's attic dusted with regret artifacts of childhood.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

We begin notes on books this week a little on the lighter side with a book on fashion, and the world of fashion. Bettina Ballard, who was for many years an editor of Vogue magazine and who knows the world of the fashion-wise, has done a book entitled In My Fashion. It is chatty and witty and good reading for women but will probably be shunned by men, which is understandable.

According to the jacket blurb, no man has contributed more to the advancement of psychiatry than has Karl Menninger of the Menninger Clinic in Kansas. Certain it is that the famous psychiatrist has done so much to relieve sufferers from mental illness and to put into practice new methods of treating such illness that the world should call him blessed. The new book by Dr. Menninger is called A Psychiatrist's World and it is almost large enough to contain such a world. It is printed on rather thin paper and we noticed several pages done so dark that the printing was visible through the paper. This may be a method of self-testing. If reading it makes you so nervous you are a babbling wreck, you can readily see you need psychiatric help. Voila, the Menninger Clinic!

The teacher of the Crown Prince of Japan went back there to attend the prince's wedding, and, of course, wrote a book about it. The book is called Return to Japan. you should be warned that we catalog Mrs. Vining under her maiden name of Gray, just to keep her works together on our shelves and in our card catalog and not with the ugly idea of confusing the public as much as possible. It is a good book and Mrs. Vining's admirers are many. You will probably have to line up for this one.

It takes a really good book to win a prize and yet we have a new book this week which did the almost incredible thing of winning three prizes. Yvonne de Bremond d'Ars was an antique dealer in Paris who was commissioned to divide a famous collection among five women. She was required to study all five and then do the dividing according to each woman's personality and background. She did it, and she wrote a book about it, and the book won three prizes in France. The title of the book is In the Heart of Paris. Especially interesting to a reader who likes antiques, but that isn't a requirement for enjoyment of this entertaining piece of writing.

William Workman is a newspaperman in the South and he has a book just out which is entitled The Case for the South. It's a middle-of-the-road sort of book, and will probably not really satisfy extremists of either persuasion, but it gives the southern viewpoint on segregation and race relations. A good book for the library to have and probably a good one for you to read.

There are six or seven new novels . . . really a collection of good books this week . . . but someone who came in the library the other day said, "All the books look good to Mrs. Thornburg." Tisn't so! I loathe books with titles such as With a Rhinoceros in My Lap, or Who Saw a Zoo in My Back Yard? Who cares?

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone:

The time has come, as the walrus said, to speak once more of a much needed auditorium. The discomfort of the audience in Sunset School at the Monterey County Symphony concert in May was evident. Everyone was perishing with the heat. Yet, when a door was opened at the exit next to the office, the wind was cold.

We need an auditorium centrally located for the four towns, possibly where the Pebble Beach gate used to be, or atop Jack's Peak with a light on top to be seen from the entire county.

Monterey complains that they want the auditorium at the Fair Grounds. Let them have one there also if they want it. The Peninsula is growing so fast that we shall probably need both. Residents are moving to California from the East faster than we can locate them.

Meanwhile we can build an auditorium financed by organizing an Athletic Club with large indoor swimming pool. Such a club is just as necessary as an auditorium. We can't swim at our beaches. There is too much undertow; water too cold and sharks infesting the waters.

General McClure's committee gave $50,000 worth of volunteer work to prepare a report which we have available for study, giving all details and data on 50 such successful combinations of auditoriums and athletic clubs across the nation.

The club would have dining rooms of all sizes from a main room large enough for conferences down to small parties. Prices would be very reasonable. Mothers could have a swim before luncheon. Then they could play cards afterward and the children could come to the club to swim after school.

A sloping floor auditorium would have room for our growing Symphony Orchestra and we could bring from San Francisco operas and good plays such as the Cornelia Otis Skinner production, The Pleasure of His Company.

It would be such fun to go to our own club for luncheon when the many restaurants are filled with tourists as they are already.

If we have faith, these projects will move right along to fulfillment. In these days, nothing can fail here on the Peninsula.

It is not generally known, but this is going to be the cultural center of California and the nation!

Mrs. Grace C. Howden also forwarded to the Pine Cone the following letter from the Division of Highways concerning the proposed Carpenter Street interchange.

Mrs. Grace C. Howden
P. O. Box 3433
Carmel, California

Dear Mrs. Howden:

Your recent letter to Sacramento concerning the future freeway development for State Sign Route 1 in the vicinity of Carpenter Street has been referred to this office for reply.

Detailed plans for the ultimate full freeway development of Route 56 (State Sign Route 1) in the Carmel area are not as yet complete and, therefore, are still subject to change. The final construction plans for this project have been progressing very slowly because of the press of other work and the demands of more critical projects in Monterey County. I am sure that you will be pleased to learn, however, that our planning to date conforms with your ideas. As presently contemplated, the new freeway development will be in a cut section in the vicinity of Carpenter Street and the Carpenter Street connection will be carried over the top of the new freeway development on a bridge. I must emphasize again, however, that these plans are not final or approved and are therefore subject to change. I am giving you this advance information in accord with our policy of providing the latest information possible at all times.

We appreciate your interest in the highway problem and your courtesy and cooperation in taking the time to write to us to offer your suggestions. It is anticipated that we will have further contacts with the officials of Monterey County and the City of Carmel before the construction plans are complete and approved and the project made available for actual construction.

If we can be of further service on this or any other highway problem, please feel free to contact this office at any time.

Very truly yours,
A. M. NASH
District Engineer

Cadet Elwin D. Post Jr., 22, son of Major General (USA, Ret.) and Mrs. Elwin D. Post, Pebble Beach, will be graduated June 8 from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, New York.

Cadet Post will be commissioned a second lieutenant in Infantry and will receive a bachelor of science degree. At West Point he was active on the debate council and forum, and in the golf, ski and sailing clubs.

Music Society Names Artists And Dates For 1960-61 Season

Carmel Music Society this week announced attractions for the 1960-61 concert season at Sunset Auditorium.

Opening the season on November 5 will be the Societa Corelli string ensemble. Other attractions will be: Leon Fleisher, pianist, January 14, 1961; Janos Starker, cellist, February 4; Guiseppe de Stefano, tenor, March 9; and Leontyne Price, soprano, April 14.

Deadline for renewal of last year's subscription and seat location is September 1.

SUMMER STOCK COMPANY OPENS IN VALLEY BARN JUNE 29 WITH MUSICAL

White Oaks Summer Theatre opens its season this summer on June 29 at the Barn Theatre in Carmel Valley, located directly below the Post Office. The cast and crews for the troupe will move in shortly to begin rehearsals immediately for the first production, a musical comedy, Annie Get Your Gun. This show will play for 16 performances nightly except Monday and Tuesday. The Tender Trap, My Three Angels, and Bells Are Ringing will complete the season. Plans are being readied to present children's theatre later in the summer. Special actors will portray the roles of characters familiar to all youngsters.

Again this year White Oaks Summer Theatre is offering its choicest seats to those persons who wish to become season subscribers.

A season subscriber can occupy the same seat for all four performances throughout the season. White Oaks Summer Theatre is the only stock theatre in the West designed after the famed playhouses of New England. It is in constant operation rehearsing, building sets, and carrying on the administrative tasks of bringing superior theatre to this area.

Visitors are welcome any time during the day to tour the grounds of the theatre. Last year over 400 interested people dropped in on Sunday afternoons alone.

Engle-Masten Engagement

Two Carmel families will be united in August with the marriage of Joan Engle and Warren Masten, whose engagement was announced this week by Joan's mother, Mrs. Adrienne Bancker Engle.

Both Joan and Warren attended Carmel High School, and are currently back here after sundry traveling and studying elsewhere. Joan, whose father is Peter King Engle of Altadena (he appears on TV as Peter Whitney), studied art at Monterey Peninsula College following her graduation from high school here in 1958. She also attended the California School of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, and is now commuting once a week to San Francisco for a course in fashion modelling at the House of Charm.

She is the sister of Kaaren Engle Stanley (Mrs. Anthony L. Stanley) of Pacific Grove, and of Christopher Engle, a sophomore at Carmel High.

Warren is the son of Mrs. Hildreth Hare of Carmel and the late Richard Masten, well-remembered Carmel writer. His older brother, Rick Masten, also lives in Carmel, while his sister, Olga (Gay) Masten Economakis, presently resides in Cairo, Egypt. He has two half-brothers, Donn and Lee Hare.

Warren left Carmel High to attend Kiskiminitas Spring School in Saltsburg, Pennsylvania, and subsequently made a trip to Europe and was graduated in 1955 from the Lycee Jaccard in Lausanne, Switzerland. Following Navy service he returned to Carmel, and is presently employed by Himalayan Pack Company in Monterey.

Following their wedding here in August, Joan and Warren plan to establish their own home in Carmel—possibly after a honeymoon trip to Europe.

Gail McHarry Marries

Diana Gail McHarry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McHarry, became the bride of William Marshall Scearce of San Francisco Saturday afternoon at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Before a large gathering of family members and friends, Gail was escorted by her father to the altar where the Reverend David Hill performed the wedding ceremony.

Gail's full-length white gown was fashioned with a short-sleeved lace bodice and a full silk skirt, and a small cap held her elbow-length illusion veil. She carried a white prayer book with a spray of orchids.

Linda McHarry was her older sister's maid of honor, wearing a short frock of blue silk and organza and carrying a bouquet of delphiniums.

The groom's two brothers, Robert Scearce and Richard Scearce of Portland served as best man and usher, respectively.

Also here from Portland for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Scearce, parents of the groom.

Following a festive reception at the McHarry home at Carmelo and Fifteenth streets, the bride and groom left for Santa Barbara, en route to a honeymoon in Arizona.

They will make their home in San Francisco, where William is in business, and where Gail, too, will be starting work with KPIX.

The couple met at the University of Oregon, where Gail was graduated this Spring. She is also an alumna of Carmel High School.

Frat's Fiftieth Fling

Fifty years ago, at the University of Illinois in Urbana, a club called the Aztec petitioned for and got a chapter of Psi Upsilon fraternity at the campus. Last week end the Psi U initiates of 1910 gathered here for the anniversary reunion of the founding of their Omicron chapter.

Unofficial hosts for the occasion were the William Fielders, who maintain homes both in Carmel and Piedmont. Due to an illness, Mrs. Fielder was unable to leave the East Bay, but Mr. Fielder (class of '14) was here to entertain his fraternity brothers and their wives at a cocktail party at the Fielders' cottage at San Juan and Pescadero Roads on Saturday evening.

A round of activities ranging from dinner parties to the dog show kept the group busy during their get-together. Mrs. Dwayne G. Young of Piedmont was in charge of entertainment arrangements.

Participating in the reunion, in addition to Mr. Fielder and the Dwayne Youngs, were Mr. and Mrs. Harmon V. Swart of Miami Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Kegley and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Pegram of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dugan and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Carlson of Santa Monica, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Young of Portland, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Shoemaker of San Francisco, and George F. D. Zimmerman of Hermosa Beach.

Music Society Directors

Ten new members were elected to the Board of Directors of the Carmel Music Society to replace members whose terms had expired at the Society's annual meeting last Saturday.

Mrs. A. M. Allan, Mrs. Edward Graham, Mrs. Philip Schneeberger, Mrs. James Hatlo, Mrs. Carl Rohr, Dr. John Craige, Dr. Arnold Manor, Dr. Mast Wolfson, Dr. LeGrand Woolley and John Ericson are the new board members.

Following the meeting in Sunset Auditorium, Society members and guests enjoyed a concert by th young violinist, Stanley Plummer.

Sally Magee Engaged

The names "Sally and George" printed on napkins clued the 40 Saturday night dinner guests of the John Magees as to the occasion for the party: the engagement of the daughter of the house, Sally Magee, and George Dersham, a student at the Army Language School.

The party guests also heard of Sally's acceptance as a summer music student at the Lotte Lehman Academy of the West in Santa Barbara. Sally was recommended to the institute by her piano teacher, Wade Parks, and will be studying there during July and August.

Sally attended the Anna Head School for Girls in Berkeley and is completing her studies at Carmel High School, where she has been a member of the French Club and served on the staff of El Padre. The Magees made their home in Piedmont before moving to their present home at Scenic Drive and Ocean View Avenue on Carmel Point. Sally's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Frederick Bradshaw, also lives here.

Sally's fiance is the son of Mrs. James Allan Dickson of Amsterdam, New York, and of Harris Dersham of Kauai, Hawaii. He has two sisters, Mrs. James Hite of Fort Collins, Colorado, and Kathryn Dersham of Amsterdam, New York. Prior to his studies at the ALS, he attended the University of Colorado.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Bailey To Hollywood

Taking temporary leave of absence from Carmel and the legitimate stage, actor-director Richard Bailey set off yesterday for Hollywood to investigate opportunities in TV and film work.

Final performances of The Innocents, Bailey's last production as managing director of The Studio, took place last week end. Bailey was also co-director with Dorothy Dean of the ballet fantasy, The Emperor's Nightingale.

Maria Hallstead Bailey, who starred in The Innocents, will remain here while her husband explores the Southern California entertainment jungle. Her own theatrical experience is currently taking a new direction: puppeteering. She will participate in the forthcoming production at the new Tantamount Theatre in Carmel Valley.

Carmelites Rule Merienda

Mimi Doud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Doud of Carmel Woods, will be La Favorita at Monterey's one hundred and ninetieth birthday party, the Merienda, to be held Saturday afternoon in the garden of the old Pacific Building.

A senior at Santa Catalina School for Girls, Mimi is a fourth-generation member of a family which first established on the Peninsula in 1849. She is the sister of John Edward Doud, now attending the University of Santa Clara, and a cousin of Mrs. Frank Baker and Miss Anita Doud of Monterey. Mimi was an attendant at the 1957 Merienda.

Selected as one of La Favorita's two attendants, or doncellas, is Alexandra Robison, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Shelburn Robison of Carmel, and a sophomore at Santa Catalina. Her older sister, Robin (Mrs. James Vaughan), who now lives in Arizona, was La Favorita at the 1950 Merienda. Her brother, Sam, graduated from Carmel High School and now attends MPC; he plans to enroll as an electronics major at the University of Arizona. All three are great-great-grandchildren of one of the signers of the original State Constitution, Joel P. Walker.

Mrs. George L. Tomlinson of Pebble Beach will serve as duena for La Favorita, while Maria Christina Marihart of Salinas will be the other doncella.

In addition to the traditional Merienda barbecue, Saturday's festivities will include a theatre party at California's First Theatre for members of the History and Art Association, sponsors of the event.

Realtors Here and There

Gladys Johnson, fresh from a short holiday at Reno, Lake Tahoe and Grass Valley, checked back into town just long enough to pack up for another junket south. As a director-at-large of the California Real Estate Association, she left Wednesday for the CREA directors' meeting in Santa Monica. Also attending the three-day conference are Charles Lunt, president of the Carmel Realty Board, and Leo Tanous, a director.

Mrs. Johnson, though delighting in the mountain freshness and scenery of her Sierra jaunt, took a realtor's view of developments in the Tahoe area: "Fantastic!"

Barbeque Christening At Askews'

Labor relations—as well as family relations — were happily furthered at a patio party given Wednesday evening by Mrs. Edna Askew.

The occasion inaugurated the new brick barbeque pit just completed for Mrs. Askew by Richard de Amaral, who was present for the party with his bride of a month, Claudette. Also on hand were his assistants on the job, Tom Moreland and Fred Askew; the latter also did honors as steak chef for his mother and her guests.

Others present for the party were Mr. and Mrs. William Askew Jr. and their children Mary Lynn and William III, the hostess' brother-in-law and sister from Seaside, Mr. and Mrs. John Newton, and Mrs. Rella M. Lunday, Johnny Lunday, Mrs. Mary Morland and her daughter Phyllis Morland, also of Seaside.

Out-of-town visitors of Mrs. Askew's who also shared in the al fresco festivities were her sister and brother-in-law from Bakersfield, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, who are her houseguests this week.

Carmel Couples Greet Newcomers

Five Carmel couples welcomed new additions to their families recently at Peninsula Community Hospital.

Friday the thirteenth turned out to be a lucky day for Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Campbell; it's the birth date of their new daughter, Deanna Beatrice .

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Murphy also have a new daughter, Kathleen Helen, who made her debut on May 21.

Lance Andrew is the name Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hollars have given to the son which arrived on May 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kmiecik have chosen the sprightly name of Kelly Anne for their new daughter, born on May 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Storey are the parents of a daughter, too: Ann Leslie, born on May 25.

Lieutenant j.g. and Mrs. Garvin Murrell of Sunridge Road, Pebble Beach, welcomed a daughter, Brenda Kathryn, on May 24.

Mrs. Rennels To Minnesota

Mrs. John Rennels will be spending several weeks at her family home at Moose Lake, Minnesota, where she was called last Friday on the death of her father, Mr. Richard T. Hart.

Mr. Hart, Mayor of Moose Lake and owner of Hart's Resort there, was for 20 years a member of the Minnesota House of Representatives, and was active in the state's Republican Central Committee and in the Masonic Lodge.

At Moose Lake, Mrs. Rennels is staying with her mother, Mrs. Hart, and her twin brother R. T. Hart Jr., who maintains a law practice there.

The Harts visited their daughter and son-in-law and grandchildren, Johnnie and Susie Rennels, here on several occasions.

Apart from being missed by her family here Mrs. Rennels' absence will also be felt by the many local organizations in which she is active, among them the Children's Home Society, Girl Scouts, Panhellenic, Gamma Phi and the auxiliary of All Saints' Church.

Symphony Membership Tea

The Symphony Guild will present its annual Membership Tea on Thursday, June 9, at 2:00 o'clock in the Fiesta Room at Casa Munras, Monterey.

The event is open to anyone interested in the Guild and in support of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Blair Hackney, chairman for the event, has arranged a program which will include dramatic readings by Ruth Warshawsky and a song recital by Mrs. Douglas Graham of Carmel, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Joy Oleata.

Following the entertainment, refreshments will be served, and officers of the Guild will outline the organization's plans for the fall.

Top events on the Guild calendar are an I. Magnin fashion show in August and a repeat performance of last year's highly successful Gourmet Tasting Party in November.

Preceding the tea, there will be a brief business meeting at which new Guild officers for the coming year will be elected.

Another Approach To Religion

Where is there a religion that honestly encourages the fullest possible use of reason?

There is beauty and truth in many of the world's religious faiths. Is there a church anywhere that does not claim to have all the answers?

I cannot accept religious beliefs just on faith. Is there a church for me?

Can persons from any religious background — Christian, Jewish, Buddhist, Moslem, etc. —find one church where all are welcome without "conversion" or "renunciation?"

If you find something of your own thought, experience, and searching in these questions, you are invited to share your ideas with us—the Unitarian Church of the Monterey Peninsula. We meet every Sunday at 11:00 a.m. at the Masonic Auditorium, Central at Lighthouse, Pacific Grove. Literature about Unitarianism may be procured by writing: P.O. Box 92, Carmel.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The spiritual foundation of the universe including man will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon "God the Only Cause and Creator."

Opening selections from the Bible will include this verse from Isaiah (46:9): "Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me."

A correlative citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (331:18-24):

"God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind."

employment, and school board members swear to uphold laws of the state. The board also has the right to decide that an employee is not insubordinate in refusing to answer Un-American Activities Committee questions, he added.

Mr. Snyder wanted to know, if according to the code the employee were guilty of insubordination, would it be necessary to have a board hearing on the reasons the employee refused to testify.

"The school board should listen and afford the employee an opportunity to explain," was Mr. Stoffers' reply.

Mr. Snyder countered with questions in respect to "implied guilt" of the employee if the board took action on a refusal to answer congressional committee queries. It would be "an indirect trial on the subject of an alleged act," he suggested.

Mr. Stoffers said the reasons the employee gave a school board for refusing to testify might mitigate the insubordination question.

Trustee George Yates ascertained from Mr. Stoffers that board action was mandatory after the board receives official notice of the action of the employee in refusing to testify, and asked if the board should do nothing until a transcript of the sub-committee hearing was received.

"The board might well take action on its own initiative," Mr. Stoffers replied.

Mr. Yates asked if there was any other action the board might take and received a "No" from Mr. Stoffers.

Trustee Grant Fletcher was of the opinion that nothing could be gained, either by the employee or the board, by waiting, and it was necessary to substantiate hearsay evidence.

Mr. Snyder wanted to delay "to permit the individual to adopt procedure in a matter in which he has no effective defense. He may take action and relieve the board of taking action."

Charles McHarry, in the audience, asked if the teacher under discussion had given any notice to the board that he would like to appear before them for questioning. The answer was "No".

Francis Heisler, attorney for Martin Marcus, stated his client was willing to appear before the board.

"The man should have a chance to give his reasons. He might be protecting someone else. The board should not put its head in a bucket of sand. Don't wait to find out. Don't do nothing until extricated in some manner", Mr. McHarry urged the board.

Mr. Stoffers offered the opinion that the board could conclude that the employee's reasons for not testifying were valid and drop the matter after a hearing. The board was not compelled to discharge the employee if his reasons were good.

Pacific Grove realtor Robert Stevenson, husband of a Tularcitos School teacher, told the board he had written to Francis Walter, chairman of the sub-committee of the Un-American Activities Committee, and requested a transcript of Mr. Marcus' hearing be sent to him and school board chairman Ted Fehring.

He confirmed the fact from Mr. Stoffers that as a private citizen he could file verified charges of insubordination against Mr. Marcus and stated that (according to the education code) any employee refusing to testify is subject to discharge, "if a valid charge is filed."

Thomas K. Perry told trustees he had written to the congressional committee for a transcript and been refused. The committee said the transcript couldn't be given unless the board asked for it, Mr. Perry emphasized.

Mr. Yates moved that the school board ask the subcommittee to send trustees the transcript of Mr. Marcus' testimony before the committee. Trustee Betsy Bennett seconded the motion. Mr. Snyder cast the only dissenting vote.

He then moved that all evidence which caused the committee to ask Mr. Marcus to appear before that body should also be sent to the board. This motion also passed.

Another member of the audience who spoke during the meeting was Stephen Kahn who called the discussion "a side show". He was reprimanded by Dr. Fletcher who stated that trustee discussion was to acquire legal advice from Mr. Stoffers on behalf of the citizens of the district. Mrs. Jane Vial and Howard McFann also asked questions of the board and Mr. Stoffers from the audience. Francis Heisler cited Supreme Court of the United States' decisions on cases similar to that before the board last night.

Hill, requesting the lease of the Sunset School parking area between the hours of 7:00 and 1:00 o'clock each Sunday.

Deputy Counsel Bert Linsley advised the board that such an arrangement would be quite legitimate — providing the board go through the formalities of advertising for and receiving bids.

City council takes a tree tour at 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to consider the following:

A driveway in street right-of-way at Third and Mission; removal of three oak trees at Tenth and Junipero which owner Grove Bishop claims will obstruct the driveway for his proposed residence; a request by M. Pulitzer and R. L. Wood for permission to excavate a shoulder parkway to provide a parking area at Junipero and Tenth; a driveway variance request by Lane Sandberg on Junipero near Tenth; and request to trim a city-owned cypress at Scenic near Seventh by J. J. Jacobs.

Mrs. Walter Jennings is looking for accommodations for Bach Festival musicians who will arrive here for rehearsals July 8 and remain until July 24, closing date of this year's festival.

Any person with a room available during this time is asked to telephone her at MA 4-4125 during the day and at MA 4-4648 in the evening. Accommodations should be within walking distance of Sunset School, 15-20 blocks, she adds, as few musicians bring cars and have to transport their instruments.

"It would be preferred to have these accommodations gratis since the Bach Festival, as all non-profit organizations, operates on short funds. Maximum payment possible is $2.50 per day for room and bath," she concludes.

We are impressed with the "walking distance" defined by Mrs. Jennings. It extends beyond the limits of Carmel from First Avenue south to Santa Lucia Street and east from the Ocean across Highway 1. We'd hate to carry a bass fiddle or a bassoon that far and realize Bach Festival musicians are indeed dedicated persons.

the office are single tickets to this year's various programs, which will be held July 18-24.

However, those planning to attend are urged to visit the office early, since mail orders on both season tickets and singles have made heavy inroads on the choice of seating.

Additional ticket information is available by phoning MA 4-2085 or writing P. O. Box 503, Carmel. Other questions on the festival should be addressed to Mrs. Alastair MacKay, festival business manager, MA 4-3437.

concerning her own plans, schools and interests.

Senators Farr and Kennedy had a few leading questions for each other, however.

Senator Kennedy hoped Senator Farr might find it in his heart to promote the Kennedy interests within the California delegation. Senator Farr allowed that while he, like the rest of the delegates, was pledged to Governor Brown, he would certainly back Kennedy if this should be Brown's wish.

(Senator Farr was local campaign manager for Adlai Stevenson four years ago.)

If you should receive the nomination, added Senator Farr, how about considering Senator Clair Engle for the vice-presidential post? Senator Kennedy replied that he had the greatest respect for the California senator, and indeed his name had been mentioned among the three top prospects as his potential running-mate.

The exchange concluded on a note of cordial and mutual non-commitment.

Senator Kennedy and his attractive wife, Jacqueline, arrived on the Peninsula Saturday for a week end's relaxation from the strains of campaigning, and, incidentally, to celebrate the senator's forty-third birthday, which fell on Sunday.

He left Tuesday morning for Los Angeles to speak at a Democratic rally and meet Governor Brown. Last night he spoke in San Francisco, and today flies to Michigan to continue his campaign.
